In our prayers:

How quickly time goes by.... Here we are nearing the end of the 'summer holidays' again! In just a few weeks our children/grandchildren will be heading back to school. We give thanks for the time of vacations, and pray that this time has been restorative for everyone.

In our prayers this week we continue to pray for healing for Julie and Jesse. We pray they may feel the presence of God, the love of those around them and the peace that God is in control and will carry them through this time. We pray for their families as they take this journey alongside them.

Pray for Noah and any others that may be struggling with mental health issues. Pray for those who support them and have to watch the difficulties they go through.

Even though we like to think that the COVID pandemic is in the past, we see that many people are still becoming ill with COVID. Pray for healing for them, and for an end to the pandemic.

Continue to pray for Trixie, Helen, Reta and Gep as they struggle with continuous issues.

Pray for the leadership and calling committee of HCCRC as we continue to pray for guidance and search for a pastor to lead us. Give thanks that we have been blessed and continue to be blessed with pastors each week.

As the world seems to be spiralling out of control, filled with angry, greedy and godless struggles and wars, pray for peace. Pray for the people of the Ukraine, that they may soon have peace and the freedom they have fought for.

We thank God for our freedom, and the ability we have to worship Him openly, to share His Good News with those around us.

Jesse and Jenn Strobosser have a blog to keep everyone updated on what is happening with Jesse. Here is a link to the blogs as they are posted: JesseJenn blog

SoCo Beach Project Weekly Update:

Believe it or not, we only have three more weekly newsletters...as there is less than two weeks left of SoCo '22. We are beginning to experience some of our "lasts". Read about our encouraging time with Faith and Amos Shelley last week, as well as delving into the topic of diversity and racism with Shiao Chong, this week. Pray for the participants as they begin to turn toward their fall plans even as they seek to finish well here at the project. And there's still time to help the participants reach their fundraising goal of $28,000. Newsletter link: <https://mailchi.mp/86383db93841/soco-weekly-update-august-11-22>

Hearts Exchanged: Participate - Hearts Exchanged is a unique CRC opportunity to learn about reconciliation in a supportive community. Learn more about the details of this experience and how you can get involved this fall. crcna.org/hearts-exchanged
